Weather Conditions Excellent and Comparatively Good Scores Are Made by Contestants.

Riflemen representing Business High

nors in the fourth annual outdoor rifle shooting contest of the schoolboys of the District of Columbia, held on the range at Edsalls, Va., yesterday. The Bookkeepers won the interschool match, the interclub match, Chamber of Commerce match and the match for the Gen. Oliver trophy. Eastern captured the company team match, these being the only events completed. Owing to lack of time the Secretary of War match was not shot. Weather conditions could not have been improved, the day being cloudless and with only a moderate breeze blowing. The party, which left at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning over the Southern railroad, was made up of boys from each of the city's high schools, officials of the schools and others. Business High School sent twenty-five boys, eleven represented Eastern, Central had twenty-one in the party, McKinley's delegation numbered twenty-three and Western had twenty-two representatives at the shoot.

Those Accompanying Boys.

Accompanying the boys were: Prof. L. Thurston, assistant superintendent of schools; Lieut. Albert S. Jones, secretary of the National Rifle Association; Claus J. Schwartz of Eastern High, president of the Interscholastic Rifle Shooting Association of the District of Columbia; Allan Davis, principal of Business High; Joseph Finckel, faculty adviser of the same school; Harry Burroughs, faculty adviser of Central; Prof. George Devitt, faculty adviser of Western; Prof. Wilson faculty adviser of Mckinley, and repre-sentatives of firearms and ammunition manufacturing companies and military pub.ications.

All events were open to any school-boy in the District of Columbia who has not reached his nineteenth birthd the various matches were shot under the rules of the National Rifle Association, with regulation army rifles and ammunition, the range being 200 yards, on United States army target "A."

Scores in First Match.

The interschool match was shot first, Business being the winner. The winning team and individual scores were: Keene, 78; Seltzman, 78, and McAleer, 74; total, 480. Central's team finished second with Furnishes Moving Pictures score of 462; McKinley was third, with 450; Eastern's score for fourth place was 436, and Western, fifth, scored 416. The company team match, captured by They will be thoroughly high- the team representing Company F of class pictures, equal in every way Eastern, was the next event. Struble Champion Shot.

Struble's score of 85 gave him the title of champion outdoor rifle shot of the District of Columbia and the Chamber of ommerce medal. Eaton, also of Business, won the championship of the High School Cadet regiment for 1912, and the Gen. Oliver medal, with his score of 84, a single point behind Struble. The following boys made scores of over
